BASKET-BALL PLANS FOR COMING SEASON

Are Being Perfected by Director Stephens for the Classes at the Y. M. C. A.

Arrangements are being made for basketball work at the Y. M. C. A. for the coming season. A large number have already reported and it is planned to get as many men out as possible. Director Stephens is completing arrangements for a series of league games between the different teams of each class. It is thought that from four to six teams can be organized from each of the three classes, the Juniors, Intermediates and Seniors. Games will then be scheduled between the teams in the same class. Prospects for an association team are rather poor this year, as some of the best players are interested in the city organization. Director Stephens is not very anxious to have an association team, however, as he believes that more real good can be gained and a larger number will be benefited by the league system. For the present at least attention will be centered in getting out the largest possible number of men with no special thought for players to represent the association in outside contests.

COMPANY PLEASED AT CAR'S SHOWING

Monitor Truck Showed Up Well in the Reliability Run in Both the East and West.

In the Chicago-Milwaukee motor truck reliability run which was finished last Saturday, the entry of the Monitor Automobile Company of this city made a very creditable showing. A total distance of 211 miles was covered and the car finished ahead of schedule time notwithstanding the fact that it carried a twenty-five percent overload over the entire route. There is scarcely any doubt that the Monitor would have carried out the prize cup for its class if it had not been for an unfortunate accident to one of the very starting of the race from Chicago. Over an hour or more of time was consumed in making this repair after which the car continued on its course and finished ahead of schedule. When the car came before the technical committee for final examination there were no broken or missing parts which gave the car a clean score for perfect mechanical construction and for finishing on time.

In the New York Reliability run, the car which was entered by the Eastern agents of the Monitor Company finished both days' runs with a perfect score and was awarded second place in that contest. The car which received first place did so by reason of burning slightly less fuel. In each of these contests the local company had one car entered while many of their competitors had several entries, thus raising their chances of success. These results show that the Monitor truck is proving up well and the company have good reason to be proud of the showing which has been made. The commercial car is fast gaining people's confidence and its place in the realm of transportation is sure.

ROLLER IRONED OUT BULGE IN PAVEMENT

And G. W. Graham of Gund-Graham Co. Believes There Will Be No Further Trouble.

After some of the cement being between the last rows of bricks and the roller yesterday ironed out the bulge in the new pavement on South Main street and City Engineer Kerch and others share the opinion of G. W. Graham of the Gund-Graham Co. that no further trouble is to be anticipated on that score. It is believed that the shoulders of the new rails have settled down to a final abiding place and that they will not again heave or otherwise disturb the overlying layer of brick.

NINE RANCHERS ARE HELD

One Homesteader is Said to Have Been Put in Insane Asylum After Mook Trial—Letter to Taft Started the Inquiry.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—Indictments charging a conspiracy to drive homesteaders who took sections of semi-arid land under the Kinkaid homo-stead law, from their claims, were returned here by the federal grand jury against nine wealthy ranchmen of western Nebraska.

The men named in the indictments are Perry S. Yeast, his son, Frank W.
Yeast, Leslie E. Ballinger, M. C.
Hubbel, Emil Anderson, William Z.
Emerson, Harry Sutton, Boone B.
Lawthorne and Dr. Harry H. Huff.
"Doctor Huff and Sutton are members of the insanity board, and the indictment alleges that through conspiracy C. J. Davasher, a settler on land wanted by the ranchmen, was found insane and sent to an asylum.

Destruction of Home Charged.

The specific case of Davasher is mentioned in detail. It is charged that Yeast and the other defendants, accompanied by a band of cowboys, visited Davasher's home and after threatening him and his family with death if they did not leave the country, destroyed his home, broke up his machinery, cut his harness to pieces and in other ways mistreated him.
Later, according to the indictment, Yeast conspired with members of the insanity board and secured Davasher's incarceration in the asylum.

This latter act, according to the indictment, was committed in a high-banded manner. The insanity commissioners, it is alleged, went through a mock examination, declared Davasher insane and issued a warrant for his arrest. This was served on the spot, and within an hour he was rushed off to the asylum without being permitted to have the advice of counsel.

Letter to Taft Starts Inquiry.

Davasher's case was brought to the attention of the superintendent of the institution, who conducted an examination into the case. He at once decided Davasher was not insane, and the latter was released by habeas corpus proceedings.

According to an official of the interior department the present indictment covers one of the most remarkable attempts at land grabbing that has recently been brought to the attention of the department.

A letter written by one of the victims to President Taft is said to have caused the investigation which resulted in the indictments being returned. A special grand jury was summoned to consider the evidence.
Many thousand acres of grazing land are contained in the tracts in question.

COINS BRING FANCY PRICES

At a Recent Record-Breaking Sale in
New York American Half-Eagle Brought $265.

New York.—At a recent sale of coins in this city the amount realized was $20,754. This was a record-breaker. The largest amount at such a sale before this time was $19,000, at the Parmelee sale in 1892.

Two American half eagles dated 1795 were sold for $250 and $265. An 1819 half eagle brought $180 and one of 1821 brought $190. The highest priced coin was an 1829 half eagle, which sold for $270. The prices for quarter eagles were $260 for a 1796 with stars on it; 1797 for $150; 1798, $50; 1821, $40; 1824, $40; 1827, $43.
An 1843 quarter eagle without a motto was sold for $30, while a New York continental cent with bust of Washington on it brought $205.

The prices for old and rare coins
are given below:

Dollar (the rarest of all is that of 1801), price $100 to $500, according to condition. Half dollar, that of 1799, with sixteen stars, price $20 to $27,
although that of 1796, with only fifteen stars, and that of 1797, each command nearly the same premium, $20 to $25.

Quarter dollars of 1823 and 1827, each quoted at $15 to $25. A dime of 1804 is quoted at $1 to $5. A half dime of 1802 is worth $25 to $40. A half cent of 1790 brings $5 to $8.

The rarest of the cents is that of 1799, and is worth from $4 up. The 1804 cent is rare. Three to five dollars is the usual price for it. Collectors pay $1.50 to $2 for an 1855 nickel cent with the flying eagle on it.

Half cents—1796, the rarest of all,
$5 to $8; 1793, rare, $1.75 to $2.50;
1852, $2.50 to $3.50; those for 1831, 1836, and from 1840 to 1849, inclusive, bring from $2.50 to $3.50.

The 2 cent piece of 1872 is worth from 50 to 75 cents.

As stated before, the half cent of 1796 is extremely scarce and valuable.
The number of this coin issued amounted to 803,585, but their scarcity is attributed to a shipment to the coast of Africa by a Salem (Mass.)
firm of several hundred thousand on an order from that country, where, being punched with holes, they were bartered away to the negroes, who put them on strings and used them as neck ornaments.

AFTER INDIAN TRIBAL SONGS

Woman Agent of Government is No
Novice in Gathering and Preserving Them.

Brainerd, Minn.—An agent of the bureau of ethnology at Washington, Miss Frances Denmore passed through the city on her way to the Loch Lake Indian reservation, where she will make a special study of the music of the Chippewas, submitting her report on the Chippewas, having visited the Red Lake, Mille Lacs and other reservations.

Several hundred of the tribal songs have been recorded on the phonograph and sent to the Smithsonian institution for preservation and reference.

Miss Denmore has taken these records, transcribed them in piano score and analyzed them scientifically. She has also made a study of Philippine music, and thinks the Chippewa music is of a high grade and most excellent, occupying a higher plane than the few tones embraced in the music originating in our island possessions.

The voice of one of the leading chiefs of the northern Chippewas, Gem-Urinas, is preserved in a phonograph record at Washington.

Of special interest to Miss Den-more will be the Indian celebration at the Loch Lake agency. One of the features furnishing her with rich material for study will be the war and savage dances of the Chippewas.

Peach Trees Planted by Pennsylvania Man in Idle Moment Prove Big Bonanza.

Stegeraville, Pa.—An idle moment and 20 cents have just brought $100 to the pockets of Oscar Wotring, superintendent of the Lehigh Portland Cement company. Several years ago he planted 20 peach trees in his front yard at a cost of a cent each. He wanted to see whether, if they were sprayed, they would die as all the peach orchards of the neighborhood then were under the ravages of the San Jose scale. The trees this year bore their second big crop.

Wotring picked 234 baskets of choice fruit, which he has sold at an average of $1.06 a basket, or a total of $249.16. Last year, when the peaches were scarce and netted more than double this year's prices, Wotring got $140 for his crop, and the man who bought them picked 222 baskets.

Novel Hat Pin Sult.
Milwaukee, Wis.—Mrs. Laura Cline, wife of A. C. Cline, one of the best known architects in the northwest, and designer of the new Milwaukee Socialists $20,000,000 civic center, has started suit against the Soo railroad for $5,000 damages because of an injury by a hatpin while she was traveling in Minnesota. Mrs. Cline says that she boarded a train for Bemidji from Brooks, Minn., and is started so suddenly that she was thrown to the floor of the car and badly scratched and bruised. The chief injuries were due to the pin in her hat, she avers.

Bud Marx in his Curtiss bi-plane.

It is superfluous to comment on the land is near.

CORPORATIONS.

In his campaign for the governorship of the great state of New Jersey, Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, has created considerable sensation by some of his campaign documents. Though a democrat, he does not share the average democrat's invective against the great business combinations of the country. In a recent article on the responsibilities of lawyers, Mr. Wilson has the following to say on corporations:

"Corporations do not do wrong. Individuals do wrong. The individuals who direct and use them for selfish and illegitimate purposes to the injury of society and the serious curtailment of private rights. You cannot punish corporations. Fines fall upon the wrong persons—upon the stockholders and the customers rather than upon the men who direct the policy of the business. If you dissolve the offending corporation you throw great undertakings out of gear."

"Many modern corporations wield revenues and command resources which no ancient state possessed and which some modern bodies politic show no approach to in their budgets. And these huge industrial organizations we continue to treat as legal persons, as individuals, which we must not think of as consisting of persons, within which we despair of enabling the law to pick out anybody in particular to put either its restraint or its command upon. It is childish, it is futile, it is ridiculous."

"In respect of the responsibility which the law imposes in order to protect society itself, in order to protect men and communities against wrongs which are not branches of contract but offenses against the public interest, the common welfare, it is imperative that we should regard corporations as merely groups of individuals, from which it may, perhaps, be harder to pick out particular persons for punishment than it is to pick them out of the general body of unincorporated men, but from which it is, nevertheless, possible to pick them out, possible not only, but absolutely necessary, if business is ever again to be moralized."

"You will say that in many instances it is not fair to pick out for punishment the particular officer who ordered a thing done, because he really had no freedom in the matter; that he is himself under orders, is a dummy manipulated from without. I reply that society should permit no man to carry out orders which are against law and public policy, and that if you will but put one or two conspicuous dummies in the penitentiary there will be no more dummies for hire. You can stop traffic in dummies, and then, when the idea has taken root in the corporate mind that dummies will be confiscated, pardon the one or two innocent men who may happen to have got into jail."

THE RAILWAY TIE.

The idea that something may be substituted for the wooden cross tie in the future, has not been wholly abandoned, but the great railroad systems of the country, evidently, are proceeding on the assumption that their main dependence for a supply of this useful article will continue to be in the forest rather than in the furnace. Steel ties have been used successfully under certain conditions, and it is among the probabilities that they will be used more extensively as time goes on; but wooden ties are for many reasons more desirable, and the great problem is not merely how to keep up the present supply, rapidly becoming inadequate both as regards quality and quantity, but how to provide against its exhaustion at an early day.

Many of the railroad corporations have planted great tracts in trees, some for early use, some with a view principally to the demands of thirty, forty or fifty years hence, and it is understood that the young timber is doing well. Oak is the best wood for ties, but it is of slow growth. In late years the railroads have been using a great deal of southern pine. Some idea of what the young forests will be expected to do when they grow old enough to be invaded by the man with the ax may be formed from the figures relating to the present demands of the steam and electric railroads. Last year the corporations operating these lines spent $60,000,000 for cross ties, the number used being 123,754,000. This number, however, was 20,000,000 less than the number used in 1907. These figures are sufficient to impress the reader with the great necessity of a timber supply even for this purpose alone, although the drain for cross ties is by no means the greatest that operates to destroy the forests.

None too soon, it is plain, have the railroad systems been aroused to the necessity of taking steps to secure a cross-tie supply for the future. From present appearances they will be compelled to use inferior wood in the near future or to pay a very high price for wood of a superior character.

When it is considered that new railroad construction alone demanded the use of 16,437,000 ties last year, it will be seen that the young forests cannot begin to do their share toward meeting the demand any too soon. However, the burden of supplying timber for cross ties in the future need not, and should not, be laid altogether on the railroads; even from a cold commercial standpoint it will pay the private landowner, whether farmer or inventor, to go into tree planting.

Despite the efforts of the democratic leaders it is almost a certainty that McGovern will be the next governor of Wisconsin by a good plurality. Of course there will be some republicans who will not vote for him but there will also be some democrats who will not vote for Schmidt.

Many persons throughout the state do not like Dancroft but they intend to vote for him "simply for the money he has made." If there are enough of them who feel this way Dancroft will be the next attorney general.

Roosevelt's hurried trip through Chicago did not even cause any inconvenience to Senator Lorimer this time and but one or two persons even took the trouble to call on the ex-President.

Tuesday next is election day and every citizen should go to the polls and exercise his rights of franchise, voting for what he considers the ultimate good of the state in which he lives.

Rock county taxes are now out and the taxpayer can easily discover whether this has been a prosperous year or not by inquiring how much he must pay to the county treasurer.

As there is a new $100 counterfeit bill in circulation you should look through your pocketbook carefully to see that you did not receive one in change for that last haircut you had.

The question of those bridges should be carefully considered by the voters. They are a necessity and the vote should be overwhelming in their favor.

Why take the time to explain who blow up the Maine when the bulk of the vessel is to be raised so that it can explain matters for itself.

One authority states that the inventor is the main factor of civilization. However, the fellow who steals the inventor's ideas also cuts quite a figure.

That Spanish revolution was evidently pestered out before it began and now the alarmists see danger in Italy.

Baltimore now has the bird men. Birdlike they seek the southland as the weather becomes colder.

Commander Peary is going back into the navy. One pole is enough for one man to discover.

After next Tuesday the football players will have the field all to themselves until it gets too deep to chase the pigskin.

Burglars do not leave any address so that tailors can not send them any bills for suits furnished.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

WHY?

Look on that picture and then on this:

"The private Pullman car Plymouth Rock that pulled out of here (Chicago) tonight was devoted entirely to the use of Paris. Ever hear of Paris? Well, he is a little dog bought in France by a Mr. Drews of California for his wife. The Drews could not think of allowing Paris to ride in the baggage car, as the Pullman was chartered. In addition to having his own private car, the dog carries a little bag around his neck, in which is a tiny handkerchief for use when needed. Paris feeds on boiled rice and has his own bathtub in course of construction."

"That is one picture. Here is the other, in the same newspaper:

"This baby died from exposure. Day before yesterday Mrs. Dolan and her brood were ejected from their tenement shack by the landlord's agent. As one of the neighbors tells the story, Mrs. Dolan had just returned from a day's washing and, holding the baby in her arms, was dishing up some potatoes (all there was for supper) to two little dikes that hung to her skirts and talking of what a good time they would have when father got out of jail. The constable tumbled the poor furniture in the street and turned the family outdoors. Neighbors offered to take them in, but they declined. The woman and children spent the night in an old shed near the canal. It grew cold in the night. In the morning the baby was dead."

All excepting this:

Why, 1,500 years after Christ, in the most prosperous land in all the earth, should a dog be pampered and fed and transported like a prince, while a babe, made in the image of God, is thrust out and left to perish of cold and privation?

Why?

Let statesmen who prate of our progress and economists who write of the beneficent order of our Christian civilization answer that "Why?"

If only the rich and idle, the selfish and the self-centered, would draw aside the curtain that hides "how the other half lives" if only—

But there are the two pictures. And why?

Embarrassing.

"Mike (as some one kneels)—"Sure if I don't answer, it's some wan't give me a job, an' if I do, it's the landlord after the rent."—L.A.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)

Each day the perfl hunters find some new and frightful bugaboo; it is not strange the public mind is often showing shades of blue.

THE PERIL HUNTERS .. We're being robbed by ruthless hands, of all our rights we are bereft; and heartless plutocrats are preying on us right and left. They're stealing all our wood and coal, they've burglarized our water sites; by day they put us in the hole and rob our chickens by night. The druggists sell us poisoned dope, the grocers sell us wooden beams; alas! there is no ray of hope— for those who read the magazines! And still we seem to jog along, in quite an easy, well-fed way; we wouldn't know that things are wrong, but that we're told so every day. We seem to throw in three square meals and have a place to seek repose; and when we need some extra wheels we do not have to pawn our clothes. So let the perfl hunters scream, and write their hot and throbbing stuff; prosperity may be a dream, but while it lasts it's god enough.

DENTAL TRUTH

Unless the food is properly masticated, and is finely chewed and well mixed with the saliva, it enters the stomach in a condition unfit for digestion.

As a consequence, the digestive organs are overworked, and the body is not supplied with proper nourishment.

How important it is, therefore, to take proper care of the mouth and teeth.

From an artistic standpoint, no face is so beautiful but that bad teeth will mar it, nor is any face so homely that well-preserved teeth will not lend an aspect of refinement.

Don't let me look over your mouth, and supply your Dental needs.

Miss Charlotte Charlton Has Double Fracture of Her Right Arm.

Miss Charlotte Charlton, a sophomore at the state university, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Charlton of this city, fell on Tuesday and broke her right arm while going to a recitation at the university building. She was removed to the general hospital where the double fracture was set and later taken to the Alpha Chi Omega sorority house where she lives. The accident occurred on Tuesday and her sister, Miss Mabel, left on Wednesday to bring her home, but word this morning says that she will have to remain in Madison for several days yet before she can be moved. A year ago Miss Charlton broke her left arm at the wrist.

DANGER IN LEATHER

Expert's Opinion Is That Blood Poisoning May Result.

Cheap Grades of Shoes Made From Skins Not Properly Prepared Often Cause Trouble to Their Wearers.

London.—Beware of cheap boots. In their leather, if tanned by a recently utilized scientific process, there may lurk a grave danger to health.

Blood poisoning is the danger to be feared, and according to an expert's opinion blood poisoning in a form extremely difficult to cure.

In the north of England a case of blood poisoning from this cause has just been reported, and the victim, an inspector of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, was rendered very seriously ill.

While attending a police court wearing a pair of boots of the kind warned against, he collapsed, and his skin turned from its natural color to blue and then to black.

He was taken to a hospital, and oxygen had to be administered to revive him and it was not until a week afterwards that he was well enough to be sent home.

Tanning leather by means of chromic acid is the source of the trouble. An analyst on the staff of the Leatherellers' company's Technical college described the dangers of this form of tanning.

"The process was invented by Prof. Schultz in 1887, and it is known as chrome tanning. At that time they could not make it a practical success, and it remained in the experimental stage for many years.

"An American firm then took it up and it is now the pioneer of the process. The poisoning is due to chromic acid, and occurs when the tanning is not carefully done.

"The skin first goes into a bath of chromic acid, and is then changed from the acid to a base-bath, in which the acid is neutralized by reduction with hyposulphite. If the chromic acid is thoroughly neutralized the leather is then perfectly safe and harmless.

"But if any free chromic acid is left in the leather, blood poisoning may result, and in the manufacture of the cheaper grades of leather there is a danger that the process may not be completely carried out.

"In a factory a man who works at the chrome acid bath is generally put to work at the reducing bath too, so that any chromic acid in his hands may be neutralized. If it is not he gets 'chrome sores,' which are very dangerous and are difficult to cure. Lanoline is largely used and recommended now.

"Chrome tanning is generally used for upper leather and not often for soles, because when wetted it gets very slippery.

"A large number of tanners are now giving up the old process for the chrome for light leather, but it is not yet very popular with heavy manufacturers.

"I have heard of continual complaints that it 'draws' the feet badly.

"Chrome tanning is the latest word in tanning in England," the manager of a well known Strand firm of saddlery said. "We only use it for one particular strap on saddles which go to South America, and then it is so padded that it touches neither horse nor rider.

"The process makes leather as nearly as possible waterproof. It is still in its infancy.

"If chrome tanning is properly done there ought to be no danger, but if done hastily by unqualified people, chromic acid and other chemicals are left in the leather and are dissolved out in the perspiration, so that 'chrome sores' and other mischief might be caused."

"Chromates in solution," said the medical officer of health for a large district, "have a poisonous action and also act corrosively on the skin. Chromic acid is a strongly acid liquid and in some cases the workmen preparing it or using it in various processes suffer severe ulcers."

COVER POSTERS OF BALLET

Members of Old Ladies' Home Recent Billboards Pictures of Women Scarcely Dressed.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Opposite the Old Ladies' home in this city is a dead wall, which is used to advertise attractions at some of the local theaters. A billboard put up a number of posters of ballet dancers clad in gaudy and scant attire. The inmates of the house, who saw them from their windows, were indignant.

They held a consultation and then resolved on action. They procured a number of newspapers, and with paste and put made their way to the opposite side of the street and covered the lower limbs of the dancers, and were much pleased with their work.

One of them remarked: "There now! I guess decency will not be outraged."

French Nobility Grows.

Paris.—There were only 30,000 noble families in France before the Revolution; now there are ten times as many claiming to be blue-blooded aristocrats, this in spite of the fact that a great many of the old families have died out or are dying out.

WISE GANDER ALMOST TALKS

Bird of African Descent Even Speaks One Word Plainly When Called by Its Master.

Norton, Mass.—Frank E. Brown, a railroad man of this place, has an African gander that possesses unusual bird intelligence.

This gander, Joe by name, stands about four feet tall, weighs about 14 pounds and is three years old.

To begin with, there came near being no Joe at all. The egg had to be warmed in the oven and Mrs. Brown had to pick the shell off before Joe first saw the light of day. By tender care Joe lived.

Mr. Brown began training Joe early. He built a small four-wheeled carriage, which Joe draws about. There is a harness, and Joe turns either way to the guiding of the rein. Every night the gander awaits the home coming of its master, and when he sees him runs to meet him with all the joy of a pet dog.

As in the case for a picture, Mr. Brown simply kneels on one knee and Joe hops on to the other. Another trick Joe performs after seating himself on Mr. Brown's knee. The bird winds his long neck around Mr. Brown's neck, looks his master in the face, and, in his way, talks.

If Mr. Brown lies on the couch and calls Joe, the latter trots into the house, stations himself comfortably near, and anybody who approaches Mr. Brown, even to the family members, is savagely driven off. Joe is as valuable as a watchdog.

When Mr. Brown is at home Joe follows nearly everywhere. If Mr. Brown does a little carpentering, Joe delights in bothering by trickily taking out hammers and other tools and placing them out of reach. Whenever Mr. Brown calls Joe by name Joe answers. His reply always sounds like "What."

An amusing incident occurred recently in the middle of the night. Mr. Brown hearing a noise and thinking Joe was out of his yard, shouted from his room: "Joe!" The reply came plainly and promptly, "What." Joe was safe in his customary shelter.

Building of Immense Reservoir Will Wipe Out Historic Town of Delta, Onondaga County.

Albany, N. Y.—The Delta reservoir which is being constructed about the village of Delta, Onondaga county, and which will wipe out the village, will, when flooded, furnish much of the water which the large canal in central New York will need in its operation. The hills surrounding the basin are arranged on the general scheme of a triangle with one vertex pointing upstream and north. The area of this triangle is about 3,000 acres, and its altitude four miles and its base two miles.

The upper sides of the triangle represent high hills rising from 600 to 800 feet above the valley. This valley was settled about 1780. The Floyd and Seward mansions, just above the flow line, in Westernville, and the Henry Wager homestead, the most beautiful in the valley, soon to pass into oblivion by the building of the reservoir, preserve the memory of old General Floyd, a signer of the immortal Declaration; Admiral Seward of Fort Fisher and Vicksburg fame, and Maj. Gen. Henry Wager Halleck, who ran away from Westernville, his birthplace, because of his aversion to the farm and the plow.

As is generally the case in such large undertakings, there have been some questionings as to which geographical name should attach itself to this new lake which will be added to those of New York.

It seems likely that the word delta has become inappropriately associated with the new lake and as its waters bring out even more distinctly the triangular arrangement of the hills surrounding it, the term with its individuality seems not inappropriate. It has the further advantage of commemorating the village it displaces, and perhaps in a slightly more happy manner than the word mohawk, which means "water of live flesh," the term Lake Delta brings to mind the famous Keats epitaph, "Here lies one whose name was writ in water."

GOTHAM DIRECTORY OF 1786

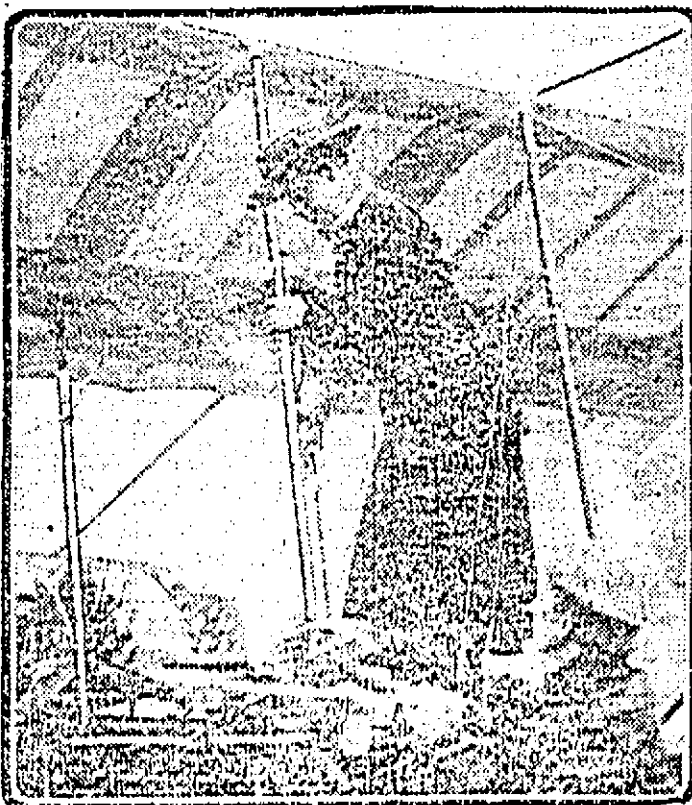

Historical Book Unearthed in Los Angeles—Includes Names of Burr and Hamilton.

Los Angeles, Cal.—James Howles of this city has unearthed a number of curious old books from a lot which he has had stored away for a number of years, among which is a copy of the first New York directory, issued in 1786. It contains the names of all the residents of New York city at that time, numbering 24,000. A small advertisement tells of the "excellent run" sold at 26 Broadway, now the home of the Standard Oil company. Only forty-two lawyers were in New York at that time and side by side are names of Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton.

Ill Once in Ninety-Five Years.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Having just celebrated the ninety-fifth anniversary of her birth, Mrs. Esther Conner of this place says she was never ill a day in her life, save when as a child she had scarlet fever. She has lived half a century in the same house and has been blessed with eight children, six of whom survive. She has 23 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren.

Crystal Gazing.

In Africa crystal gazing seems to be common. Mr. Lang tells a case from Madagascar where a woman is alleged to have seen a French vessel on its way thither and to have recognized the occupants weeks before the ship was in sight of land. The Africans of Foz used a vessel of water and at the present day a pool of ink is in use in Egypt.

Spurious Superiority.

Dr. Johnson said of a certain Mr. Kendrick: "Sir, he is one of the men who have made themselves public without making themselves known." That is to say, all his fame rested on attributes he did not own, but possessed only as the jockey in the fable stuck the peacock's feathers in his tail.

IV.—Nursing In the Home

By EUGENE L. FISK, M. D.
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

It is a far cry from the old type of nurse immortalized by Dickens in the character of Nanny Gump to the modern formidable product in neat uniform, surrounded by an atmosphere of portentous dignity and authority.

Trained nurses have their faults, just as physicians and clergymen have their weaknesses, but there is no denying that the intelligent trained nurse has largely contributed to the triumph of modern surgery and medicine. Medical and surgical practice would be one-sided and incomplete if the methods of treatment, however scientific, were left to careless or ignorant hands for administration.

How often we have occasion to note the rapid change for the better that takes place when a patient is removed to a sanatorium or a trained nurse takes charge, even though no item of the drug treatment or diet is changed. Regularity and system are largely responsible for this result, but undoubtedly there is a certain value in the mental suggestion that accompanies the assurance of trained care and supervision, just as the daily visit of the physician fortifies and cheers, even though he gives no medicine.

Nursing In Acute Diseases.
Aside from surgical practice, the trained nurse is of greatest service in severe acute diseases, such as pneumonia, typhoid fever, etc., when constant watchfulness is required and prompt administration of remedies ordered by the physician in certain emergencies.

Some people are born nurses, which means that they have clear heads, good nerve control, presence of mind and good temper, patience and sympathy. If a trained nurse is not ob-

It should be bright and cheerful, but not incumbered by carpets, upholstered furniture or curtains. In the grave crisis of disease the slightest confusion may turn the tide against the patient.

As a rule, the bed should not be placed against a wall, but in the center of the room, so that access to the patient may be had on both sides and a free circulation of air be permitted.

In pneumonia the room should be ventilated freely. The pneumonia patient cannot catch cold. Cold air seems to be a specific for the disease, and it is now the chief reliance in treatment.

In acute bronchitis or laryngitis, however, cold air appears to be irritating, and, while the room should have a constant supply of fresh air, it should be warmed.

Taking the Temperature.
The temperature is best taken in the rectum for accurate results, although a five minute exposure in the armpit or groin will usually give an accurate register unless the surface of the body is affected by an acute chill. If the temperature is taken in the mouth the instrument should be placed deeply under the tongue and the lips tightly closed and kept closed until the thermometer is removed. No matter what style of thermometer is used, it should be left in the mouth three to five minutes. Never take the mouth temperature immediately after administering cold drinks.

Bathing the Invalid.
A great deal of comfort is afforded the invalid by a daily bath where the condition warrants it. When the patient is feeble one part of the body at a time may be quickly and gently bathed. Alcohol and water, equal parts, with gentle massage, is often refreshing and restorative.

The hot pack, cold pack and cold bath for reduction of temperature should be used only under the advice and direction of the physician. In mild fever, however, sponging the body with cold or tepid water or alcohol and water will prove grateful and often reduce fever.

Diet In Fever, Etc.
People are often at a loss what to give a fever patient to eat. In acute fever caused by indigestion or bowel trouble, especially in children, it is better to withhold food until the system has been cleared of poison. Some persons fear starvation if food is not given within twenty-four hours. A little barley water or plain boiled water is better than food, which will only remain undigested and add fuel to the fire. "An empty house is better than a poor tenant."

In protracted fever there is a great waste of tissue, and albuminous food is required to make good this loss. This is supplied by broths, soups, milk and eggs. Carbohydrates (starches, grains, etc.) are also needed, as they supply energy and lessen the waste of nitrogenous tissues. These may be given in the form of strained rice, strained oatmeal, crushed wheat and barley, partially predigested if necessary.

Roast tea cannot be relied upon for nourishment, but is a good appetizer and of some value as a stimulant.

Useful Invalid Foods.
Albumen Water.—Cut the white of one fresh egg in numerous directions with scissors, shake it up in a bottle with six ounces of pure cold water and a pinch of salt and strain through muslin. Useful for infants with acute gastro-intestinal trouble, when milk must be withdrawn.

Barley Water (Thin).—Add a teaspoonful of barley previously washed in clear cold water to a half pint of boiling water with a pinch of salt. Allow it to simmer by the fire, stirring occasionally for one hour; then strain through muslin.

Imperial Drink.—Pour a pint of boiling water on a heaping teaspoonful of cream of tartar; add a little sugar and lemon peel; strain when cold. This is cooling and increases the activity of the kidneys.

Limeade or Pinxseed Tea.—Mix together three drams of unground flaxseed (linseed), thirty grains of extract of licorice and ten ounces of boiling water and allow to stand from one to four hours in a warm place. Do not boil. A little lemon juice and sugar and one or two drams of gum arabic will improve the mixture. This "tea" is especially valuable in acute colds, bronchitis, laryngitis and some forms of bladder trouble. It should be more generally used than it is the case.

Beef Tea.—Take a pound of lean beef, free it from fat and fibrous tissue, cut into small pieces. Place these in a crock or fruit jar with a good cover. Add to it a quart of cold water and ten or twelve drops of dilute hydrochloric acid. Stand in a moderately warm place for an hour; then let it simmer gently for two hours more; then strain and season with salt and pepper, if desired. It should be administered hot, an ounce or two at a time.

Farinaceous Beef Tea.—To beef tea, prepared as in the formula first given, add a little well cooked oatmeal or cracker dust and serve hot. Barley water or rice water may be likewise enriched by beef tea.

Potentiated Foods, Etc.—Partial predigestion of milk, meat, oysters, etc., may be useful in certain conditions. This can be carried out by following the directions accompanying the potentized preparations sold in the shops. Space does not permit of quoting other formulas, but those having invalids in charge would do well to study some nursing manual and lighten their labor, as well as assist the patient, by varying the monotony of the invalid diet.

Could Not Foresee Anesthetics.
In 1833 Volpau, one of the greatest surgeons of his time, wrote as follows: "The escape from pain in surgical operations is a chimera which it is idle to follow up today."

General Measures In Sickroom.
The sickroom should, of course, be of sunny exposure and well ventilated.

U. S. SANCTIONS MAIL

CARRYING BY AIRSHIP

J. A. D. McCurdy to Fly With Letters From Limer Fifty Miles Out at Sea.

Washington, Nov. 4.—For the first time in history, the United States government has given its sanction to the transportation of the mails by an airship.

Permission was granted by Postmaster General Hitchcock for J. A. D. McCurdy to carry the United States mails in this manner from the outgoing transatlantic liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to New York next Saturday when that vessel is fifty miles at sea.

The mail pouch which McCurdy will carry from the liner to the New York post office will contain letters from passengers of the steamship for transmission to different parts of the world.

The only condition imposed by the postmaster general on this first sanctioned transmission by aeroplane of United States mails is that the writers of all such letters so transmitted shall have notice that the mail is to be carried by aeroplane.

In imposing this condition the government is relieved of all responsibility in case the letters are lost while in transit from the steamship to the New York post office.

TAFT GETS HIS COW AT LAST.

Pauline Wayne III. Reaches Washington and Takes Up Duties.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Pauline Wayne III., the much-talked-of new White House cow, has at last reached Washington and taken up her domestic duties as provider of milk and butter for President Taft's household. Pauline, who came from the stock farm of Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin, arrived in a big crate, none the worse for her long journey in an express car. She was met at the Union station by a delegation of White House employees and escorted to the stables in the rear of the executive mansion. Later in the day Pauline was turned out to graze on the rear lawn of the White House.

NAMES RED CROSS COMMITTEE.

Taft Picks Chicagoans to Help Raise Endowment Fund.

Washington, Nov. 4.—President Taft announced the personnel of the new endowment fund committee of the National Red Cross. The Red Cross at present is without any endowment in this country, but it is hoped that through the efforts of the committee named by the president an ample fund may be secured. President Taft, as president of the National Red Cross, is the ex-officio head of the committee. Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh is named as chairman, and Charles D. Norton, secretary to the president, is vice-chairman. The entire membership of the committee is nearly 200.

VANDERBILT GUARD IS SLAIN.

Wife and Children See Poachers' Victim Die as Aid Arrives.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 4.—The long-standing feud between the rangers of George W. Vanderbilt's forest estate and the poachers who infest it came to a tragic climax when Clayton Davis, one of the guards, was shot to death in the woods. C. D. Hendle, Mr. Vanderbilt's manager, engaged Dr. W. D. Lillard and made a speedy run of 30 miles in an automobile to the forest lodge, only to find that Davis had died at the door of his own cabin, while his wife and three children watched the other men carry him in.

HOBBLE JOKE COSTS A LIFE.

Tailor Laughs Himself to Death at Story in Newspaper.

Eagle, Wis., Nov. 4.—A newspaper article quoting Doctor Ross of the state university as declaring that the hobble skirt would be followed by the nose ring and slit cheeks for women, caused Edward Bessingham, aged seventy, a tailor, to laugh himself to death. Although physicians declared that death was due to heart failure, the heart failure resulted from hearty laughing.

FRANCE SWEEPED BY BIG STORMS.

Seine and Other Streams Rise Rapidly—Disastrous Floods Feared.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Very severe storms are raging over almost the whole of France.

The Seine has risen rapidly, and a repetition of the floods of a few months ago is feared. The signaling system on the Eiffel tower has been destroyed. The Moselle is 2.80 metres above its normal level.

In Le Mans the heavy rain and strong wind have caused much damage. The Rhone has flooded the country near Nimes.

In Limoges, Valenciennes and Yverot it is raining furiously. At Havre the storm has caused much damage to shipping.

Gonon, Nov. 4.—The severe storm which began early Wednesday continues along the coast. Shipping schedules have been upset and many steamers have returned to port. The lower part of Gonon is partly flooded.

Dies in Traction Crash.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 4.—Motorman Charles Dillman of this city was killed and Motorman Harry Haines of South Bend and baggageman John Hegerblum were seriously injured when an interurban car on the Northern Indiana Traction line ran into a city car standing at the city limits.

The Welcome Friend.

Nothing is more friendly to a man than a friend in need.—Plautus.

NOTED ACTRESS SERIOUSLY ILL.
Mrs. Alice Kingsbury Cooley, who has been stricken with ptomaine poison.

Alameda, Cal.—Ptomaine poisoning may prove fatal to Mrs. Alice Kingsbury Cooley, one of the most famous actresses of her time, notably as "Panchon," and later a writer and poet, who is ill at her home, 1711 Laguna Vista avenue. Little hope is held out by her physicians.

Mrs. Cooley was stricken after dinner at a restaurant. Physicians diagnosed her illness as ptomaine poisoning.

Alice Kingsbury, as she was known on the stage until her marriage to Colonel Cooley, was one of the leading interpreters of Shakespearean drama. She appeared as leading woman with Booth, McCullough, Keane and Barrett and many other notable actors of the early days.

Alice Kingsbury left the stage at the age of 45 years. That was 20 years ago. She married Colonel Cooley and they settled in this city.

In her private life Mrs. Cooley became a writer and poet. She has only recently completed a novel, "The Sculpture of the Nile."

Turnip Family.

The turnip is supposed to be a native of Asia and Europe. It has been cultivated for centuries. The wild Indian turnip is said to be remotely akin to the edible turnip. It is the size of a walnut and first tasted is sweetish, but in a moment the taster's tongue feels as though it were pricked by a hundred hot needles, and he feels like expectorating for hours after. It is the country boy's favorite medium for a joke on the visiting town boy.

Neglected Opportunity.

A learned professor lectured the students recently on "Embryonic development and polyembryony in Solanaceae racemosa." As no record-record was made for Umbraby-byby, by Phononon-nograph company of New York-ork-ork and Papa-papa, however, you will have to deny yourself the pleasure of hearing it reproduced.—Washington Herald.

Too Much Impressed.

A throat specialist in Bethany, according to the Clipper, used a laryngoscope on a nervous woman patient and remarked: "You would be surprised to know how far we can see with this instrument." As he was about to place the instrument in her throat she apologized for a hole in her stocking.—Atlantic Constitution.

Old Ocean Scuttlings.

The island of Aldabra, to the northwest of Madagascar, is becoming smaller through the action of the mangroves that grow along the foot of the cliffs. They eat their way into the rock in all directions, and into the gaps thus formed the waves force their way. In time they will probably reduce the island to pieces.

Too Busy to Remember.

In our busy present we are apt to forget our past and those who helped to make it for us.

"YOU'LL SUCCEED IN JANEVILLE."

Read that line over again and then add this: "If you're not a pessimist."

Laches Wilson, who spoke in this city last spring, said in a talk, not long ago: "I tell you, gentlemen, the very first thing we have to do when we inaugurate a campaign for city building is to kill off the pessimists."

No and yes, to that statement. Kill off the pessimists by starvation; in other words, if when they see the "band wagon" going ahead, a few will do not care to get on, leave them behind.

WINS TRIUMPH IN MEDICINE

Details of Discovery of Dr. Alexius Carrel of Rockefeller Institute—Tissues Kept Growing.

Baltimore.—Details are now given of the discovery of Dr. Alexius Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research of a method of making living human tissues grow when removed from the body. The method was worked out under the guidance of John Hopkins men, who are collaborators with Dr. Carrel in the Institute.

Doctor Carrel's discovery involves a method for the removal from the human body of portions of the stomach, blood vessels, skin, bone and practically every other tissue, and making them grow at a lively rate as they did in the human form to which they belonged.

At the Rockefeller Institute attention has been directed for some time to the science of germ cultivation, the development of which, within the last few years, has been a signal triumph in medicine. Doctor Carrel, who paid much attention to the cultivation of the germs of disease some time ago, began to apply himself specifically to the growth of healthy tissues of the human system after they had been removed from the body.

He tried his experiments with tissues from the stomach, with tissues from the blood vessels, cartilage and bone, and in the end his efforts were rewarded by success. He kept portions of the human body alive as long as three weeks after they were taken from the person to whom they belonged.

The method of cultivating the living body or portions of it is similar to the cultivation of disease germs and is by the aid of culture material within the sealed receptacles. These are of glass and the processes and functions performed by the parts of the body, as they are developed by artificial means, are carefully studied by medical men.

The true study of the living tissues when in the progress of disease may be followed in a way pointed out for the application of proper and effective remedies. It is believed that much can be learned which will lead to a more intelligent treatment of cancer than was possible in the light of present knowledge.

Your Friend's Faults.
There is a quaint old saying that every one carries two wulfs—one behind and one before—and both are full of faults; the first of our own faults; the second of the faults of our neighbor. Which, being translated, means that most of us find it easier to pick flaws in our friends than in ourselves.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

WHAT a lot of obliging and generous folks there are in the world. I am convinced anew of that fact by the splendid way in which my readers are responding to my request to pass along any item of information they may have in regard to unusual occupations in which women can make good.

Do you want to be included in that complimentary category in the first line?

I am sure you deserve to be, so please give me an opportunity to do so by sending along some item. You surely know at least one item of this sort. Several readers have sent me two or three.

Here are some of them.

"A lady who was so fond of dogs and other animals that she was able to handle them under almost any circumstances, stop their fights and cure their wounds and bodily ailments, conceived the idea of making a living by taking care of cats, dogs, etc., when they were ill. She also boarded animals while their owners were away from home. She pets them, feeds them, and exercises them, and has made so much of a success of her art that she has built up some splendid kennels."

That a fondness for babies could be made as profitable as the latter which came to me in the same mail.

You asked to hear of out-of-the-ordinary occupations for girls. I am not speaking of myself, as I am a most ordinary busy mother of youngsters. But I have told a need in my neighborhood of a girl who could cater to youngsters, or at any rate keep them from killing themselves until they were old enough to know better. I have talked it over with some of the women in the neighborhood and have found that there are children enough to give a girl $2.25 a day, at the rate of $6.25, which I am sure the mothers would pay. The hours would be short. The girl would have to be intelligent, reliable person, as none of us would be willing to trust an ordinary nurse girl."

Do you know how to buy a silver baking dish with three dollars when they cost almost twice that sum? Here is the story of a lady who solved that problem.

A dear little babe I know married her "fright" just out of school, with little stock in trade but youth and love. Among other presents she received a check for $3.00 from an aunt. With the instructions to get anything she wanted. She wanted a silver baking dish, but there wasn't enough money.

After due deliberation she purchased two settings of white leghorn eggs for $1.50 a setting, and a kind neighbor loaned her two setting hens. She began to inform herself on chicken culture, sending to Manhattan and Washington for free bulletins which are so gladly supplied on almost any subject.

She raised to maturity thirteen pullets besides having about that many fry. To make a long story short, she took care of these hens the very best she knew how, kept an egg calendar with every bit of feed they ate and also the cost of a chicken-run back of the house, raised over a hundred fry each summer for three years, and when she moved away at the end of that time she sold $100 worth of eggs above the cost of feed, besides their own eggs and chickens for the table. She sold the hens, eighteen of them now, to a neighbor for $3.00, with which she bought her silver dish and three solid silver spoons.

centerpieces for coverings. Cold turkey and a salad with plenty of good bread and butter, and some of the dainty compotes which have been favored ever during the summer, will be all that will be required for such a meal. Coffee made at the table will help to keep the holiday spirits high. If you wish something lighter serve coffee from a chafin dish and let the younger members of the party take charge of the dining room for that meal. Your mind will be glad to have the evening off and you will have just as pleasant a time. We should all of us try to remember that holidays are not very frequent among American people and be considerate of all those about us.

If far from friends and family make some other lonely and happy. That will keep you from being quite so lonely and leave a pleasant memory in another heart to hear interest. There is no better way of laying up riches than to help others to be happy.

THE NERVE IMPATIENCE
By MARY RUSSELL.
The people who get on your nerves are many and varied in habits. There is the person who differs from you in politics. You have no patience with his narrow outlook. You have lived quite along and in a far broader field and you know that Republicanism—or Democracy—is the saving grace vouchsafed by an ever watchful providence to man. You know this so well that you have no patience with his hatched ideas that an amateur the things that are with you absolute knowledge. He gets on your nerves and you allow his denivity to upset your equanimity for hours, or perhaps for a whole day. You are "ill to live with" till you forget him and erase the memory of his arguments. And he is in the same mood in regard to you. He will be sharp to his office boy, and brusque to his wife, and all because some men did not take his word for the truths of a political faith which has changed several times during the last century.

All that is waste emotion. You get nowhere on such a tack. You help no one. You rattle yourself and others—and still you are not convinced nor convinced. Remember the experience when you start in to argue with another hide-bound "political thinker" on his errors and save yourself and him the experience.

The man or woman who has a different religious faith sets you up to unholy ire. Why should you feel so strongly that you are right and the other is wrong? Your own belief is of lately recent growth or development. Here is as old or perhaps older than yours. You may be right and you may be able to prove it by—to you—uncontrovertible evidence, but he has just as strong and just as incontrovertible proof on his side. Ministers will thunder against other creeds when there is room for all creeds provided they add nothing to their own amendments—"that's about his kind." Not only kind to those who think as you do, but to all men. Not cherishing only in the sense of giving creature comforts, but in thought and word. To live up to the golden rule in business, and religion, in the home and abroad. That is worth growing intense about, but differences of creed and articles of faith should be left for Times—the great after—to eliminate the untrue and save that which is worth while.

Your wife wishes to talk to you when you wish to read. She gets on your nerves and you are crabbed and short in your answers. There is nothing that works against a woman's happiness like the effort she makes to drag some detailed account of the days happenings from a reluctant, newspaper hidden man. She may not throw the dishes at him, but she wants to do it.

Waste effort on her part and lost opportunity on the part of the man. His business is, in part at least, to make her happy and it should be his hardship to have a pleasant hour of talk at the table. Try it and see if it is not well worth saving the paper till after supper when she is washing the dishes.

Then there are the children with their constant calls on your faith and patience. They get on the nerves of parents and teachers and on their own—peace! Little things. They who without knowing why, and perhaps without caring for the consequences. Nerves are a forbidden luxury in dealing with children. If there is to be happiness and not constant work and splendid achievements, and yet have we as human creatures built of flesh and nervous material, to avoid it.

It is the great problem of happiness—that of self-control. We must be on guard night and day. We must be constantly clad in the armor of control. We must never forget that if we would bend others to our wishes and make happiness in our own little world about us, first and greatest of all conquests must be of our own nerves. When some scientist discovers a way to remove it without damage to our progressiveness then happy houses will multiply. In the meantime let us keep that nerve in its proper place—under constant control!

A Roland for an Oliver.
"A Roland for an Oliver" is an expression that dates from the time of Charlemagne. Roland was his nephew and, like the great Charles, was eight feet high. Oliver, a celebrated knight of the same period, was quite a match for him, and they agreed to test their respective strength and skill in a combat on an island in the Rhine. The contest lasted five days without the slightest advantage to either. If Roland got in a well directed blow his opponent gave him quite as good a one in return, or if Oliver performed a feat of extraordinary skill Roland was sure to match it with a movement quite as adroit. It was a remarkable and altogether unsettled combat, and it gave rise to the saying "a Roland for an Oliver" when a person who has attacked another receives a blow or a retort fully equal to what he has given. Whatever it may be that is received, a return in kind is often called "a Roland for an Oliver."

Elephants Good Workers.
Elephants are used in every department of sawmills in Burma. In the work of piling logs they show great intelligence. One elephant will drag a log out of the water to the saw bench and place it with his trunk on the table, while his mate waits at the other end, ready as soon as the buzzing circular saw has converted the round tree into a four sided log, to lift it off the bench, place it on the ground and drag it out to the storage yard, where he puts it carefully into position, placing one leg exactly on top of the other. Elephants can pile logs as high as their foreheads. When the squared logs are wanted for shipment the elephant picks out the required number and drags them down to the water's edge. If it is necessary he enters the river and holds the logs in position while they are being bound together by the raftsmen.

For the Children

A Hippo Very Patiently and Quietly Waiting For His Dinner.

Above is the portrait of the best hippopotamus in the New York Zoo. He is hungry and waiting patiently to bring his dinner. You can see by his open smile that he is able to take a pretty large mouthful. In captivity the hippopotamus is fed grass and hay, bread, carrots and various other vegetables. When the keeper feeds bread the hippo simply opens his mouth and lets the man pitch the bread into his cavernous maw.

In their native habitat, Africa, hippos are sometimes found as much as fourteen feet long and nearly five feet high, but they usually are much smaller. They delight in water, living in lakes and rivers and feeding on water plants and the herbage growing near the water. They are good swimmers and divers and can remain under water eight or ten minutes.

Celery.
Celery is such a wholesome vegetable that we should have it often on our tables. It is especially good for those suffering from rheumatism or nervousness. Another qualification which celery has is that it may be had at all seasons, and usually at a reasonable price.

This vegetable is especially adaptable to combinations with fruits and other vegetables as salads, but served as a simple relish it is perhaps best enjoyed. A rather uncommon way of serving celery is to cook it until tender, then serve it well seasoned in a white sauce.

As a soup celery lends itself most suitably: Pound three stalks of celery in a mortar or grind through the meat grinder. Cook in a double boiler with three cups of milk and a pinch of onion. After cooking half an hour, strain and blend with three tablespoons of flour and butter cooked together. Season with salt and pepper, and add a cupful of cream. Strain into tureen and serve at once.

One of the prettiest and most appetizing salads may be served by using two or three sections of grape fruit, a little shredded celery, a few nuts and a bit of mayonnaise dressing, all served in head lettuce.

Celery Sandwiches.
Take half a cup of tender celery and a quarter of a cup of nuts, both chopped fine (pecans are especially good), one and a half tablespoons of mayonnaise dressing, a dash of cayenne and a quarter of a teaspoon of salt. Mix all these ingredients well and use as a filling in sandwiches.

Sweet Potato Pudding.
Peel and grate a pound of sweet potatoes. Cream six ounces of butter and half a pound of sugar, add alternately eight well beaten eggs and the grated potato; then add the juice and grated rind of one lemon and one orange, one-quarter of a teaspoonful each of mace and cinnamon, a half teaspoonful of salt and the juice of another orange. Beat hard and pour into a buttered dish and bake in a moderate oven three-quarters of an hour.

Restoring Ivory.
To restore ivory carvings that have become discolored, expose them under glass to the rays of the sun, after having removed the dust by brushing them with warm water and soap. Turn them from time to time, so that all sides will be equally bleached.

A Safe, Quick Way to Clean Silver
(Recommended by the Gold Dust Sales)

Instead of scouring and rubbing each piece of silver after each meal, put the silver in a separate tin by itself; cover with lukewarm water, to which a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder has been added. Set the pan on the range until the water gets to boiling point; lift the silver out, wipe each piece with a soft linen cloth and polish with a diamond stick. Silver that is seldom used will keep its own color longer.

Doing Away with Noise.
The gentleman with nervous and also the lady similarly equipped are a growing power in the land. They will begin on church bells and striking clocks, and they will go on improving and improving till London is paved with India rubber and every one will have to wear silent shoes like policemen and burglars, and nobody will be allowed to make any kind of noise.—London News.

The Philosopher of Folly.
"Why is it," asks the Philosopher of Folly, "that after a fellow has taken a week off, he always wakes up with the feeling that he is about to be evicted and arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses?"

VOMITING.

Vomiting is a natural reme-

an excess of food or improper matter has been ingested, though it may indicate organic disease in adults. It is commoner in animals disease is the result of the natural

URGED DEMOCRATS TO REMAIN LOYAL ON ELECTION DAY

Democratic Candidate for Attorney General Emphasized Futility of Insurgent Cause in Election Address.

John P. Doherty, the democratic candidate for attorney general, delivered a forceful campaign speech at the opera house last evening. It was an ardent, eloquent address and the fact that the audience was small did not seem to make any difference. Mr. Doherty took no compromising attitude toward the republican party or any faction of it. He called the "progressives" who were republicans still, and while the democrats have reason to thank them for many things they have done, their connections are bad and they can never hope to reform the "party of the interests."

Tariff and the republican and democratic differences on that question was given a great deal of time in last evening's speech. "The republicans have always increased the tariff," the speaker said, "instead of lowering it. They promised to revise the tariff during the last session of congress, but didn't say which way. And why didn't they revise it? They couldn't. The interests are always in one party and always will be and they have allied themselves with the republicans and consequently that party is subject to their power. Progressive policies can never reform the republican party and so it is useless for democrats to go over to the ranks of progressive republicanism."

"In the fight against the tyranny of 'Uncle Joe' Cannon in the last session of congress, was it the thirty-nine progressives that won the victory, or was it the one hundred and fifty democrats with whom they voted? When Cannon offered to resign and the democrats called his bluff only nine of the thirty-nine insurgents had courage to vote for the resolution. And when the republicans went into caucus to select their members of the new committee on rules, it was the standpatters that were elected, not the progressives. And all this only shows the futility of the cause of the republican insurgents. They are powerless to accomplish anything and any democrat that has gone to their ranks ought to be ashamed."

"It was to be admitted that the democrats had reason to be thankful to the progressives for the campaign of education that they have been carrying. La Follette was to be praised for the stand he had taken on the tariff, on the election of senators by the direct vote of the people, in the matter of conservation and other issues; that he was sincere and honest in them was not to be doubted; the criticism came in standing aloof from a party that had these very planks in its party platform. La Follette or the progressives could not reform the republican party on democratic lines. Let the insurgents ally themselves with democrats and go after reform in a certain hand, organized way."

"State issues," the speaker continued, "were not so important in this election, although there were some things to be said. The main thing was to line up with some party which would fight with united strength for the abatement of evil."

Mr. Doherty touched briefly on the campaign for the office of attorney general, and reviewed the republican situation. He pointed out that it was just such wrangling that caused dissatisfaction, and stated that the only salvation was in the election of the democratic candidates at the coming election.

$1,320 WAS JURY'S AWARD TO MURDOCK

Verdict in Interurban Case Returned at 7:30 Last Evening After Nine Hours of Deliberation.

After deliberations lasting from ten o'clock yesterday morning until half past seven o'clock last evening, the circuit court jury trying Floyd Murdock's appeal from the award of the condemnation proceedings of the Beloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville Ry. Co. (forrunner of the Rockford & Interurban Co.) returned a verdict of $1,320 in favor of the plaintiff. Mr. Murdock's residence property has a 60x132 ft. frontage on North Franklin and Wall streets. He claimed that before the interurban tracks and frogs and switches were laid in that vicinity it was worth $15,000 and that the presence of those traction apparatuses damaged it 25 per cent, or $3,750. The commissioners awarded him $750. That the jury's verdict was a compromise is, of course, self-evident. It is said that the jurymen were prejudiced at the outset to allow him all the way from six cents to $3,000. Attorney Charles Pierce and William Smith represented the plaintiff and Thomas S. Nolan, the defendant. The interurban company will probably appeal to the supreme court.

The different branches of the big trust are the large purchasers but local packers are busy also, and in the aggregate a good many hundred acres have been taken over. The following sales will show the range of prices: Hemming 104, 17a at 3c. Brick Smith 104, 5a at 10 1/2c. Peter Edwards 11a at 9 1/2c. D. McNeil, 1a at 10c. Rosa Hoggan, 7a at 3c. Spat, Allen, 5a at 10 1/2c. Frank Pearson, 6a at 10 1/2c. John Lee, 8a at 10 1/2c. Sam Hall, 6a at 10 1/2c. Chas. Babcock, 4a at 10c. H. Kirby, 5a at 10 1/2c. Wm. Handrick, 6 1/2a at 9 1/2c. Ole Olson, 1a at 7 1/2c. John Johnson, 3 1/2a at 7c. J. Pursett, 6 1/2a at 7 1/2c. A. Pursett, 7a at 7 1/2c.

There is a brisk demand for all four, especially of the '09 crop, and about all of the local packings of any size have been snapped up. The Southville and the T. E. Welch packings at Janesville of about 12000 and others aggregating over 2,000 cases have been disposed of during the week. George J. Doherty reports the sale of 27000 of '09 and '07. The movement from country hands of old stock also continues. We have had our first hard freeze of the season this week and a short season of easing weather.

The shipments out of storage reach 550 cases for the week past to all points from this market. While the season has been exceptionally favorable to the shed curing of the tobacco crop, we have had our first hard freeze during the week severe enough to enter most of the curing houses so that if there were any uncurd leaf or stems in the late harvested crop they are quite likely to show the effects of the frost. Under ordinary conditions the crop would be entirely out of danger from this source, but there was a good deal of late tobacco this season going into the sheds nearly a month beyond the usual time of harvest and it would be almost as if it should be entirely cured out by November 1st. The early portion of the crop is so well advanced that it might safely be taken down for stripping any time now after a season of easing weather.

Status of Mexican Woman.

There is one and only one statue to a woman in Mexico, in honor of those who worked to throw off the yoke of Spain. This is one to Donna Josefa Ortiz de Dominguez, at whose home in Querretaro the patriots often met a century ago. The statue is in the Jardín de la Corredera in the City of Mexico. It faces some of the government's offices.

PHIL ALLEN HAS A NEW JOB AT PRISON

Has Fine Job in Prison Library and Keeps in Good Physical Condition.

In excellent health and apparently in splendid spirits, Phil Allen, bank wrecker of Mineral Point, is passing the monotonous round of life in the Fort Leavenworth prison, where he is serving a ten years' term. United States Marshal H. J. Flint, who has just returned from the prison after taking a federal prisoner there, visited Allen while there. Allen was brought down to the warden's room for the talk, visitors, "not being allowed in the cells." Mr. Flint reports that Allen, who at first was employed in the manufacture of some articles, has been transferred to the prison library, where he has a congenial occupation. He wears the prison garb of a brown color, stripes being worn by only a few who have been given punishment for rule infractions.

Allen is closely shaved and appears and feels in the best of health, considerably better than in his first week at the prison. He inquired of Mr. Flint about various officials whom he came to know during his troublesome days last winter. Mr. Flint secured Allen's signature to some legal papers while there.

The parole board for the prison will meet soon to act on the cases of prisoners who have served one-third of their time and who, provided no demerits are checked against them, may be entitled to parole. Allen has served about one year, including the time he spent in the Madison jail prior to departure for prison, and will stand a good chance of being paroled in two more years. It is understood, according to newspaper dispatches, that Frank G. Bigelow of Milwaukee and a score of other bankers are due for parole when the board meets in a few days.

OBITUARY

John Cavaney.

[Special to THE GAZETTE.] Richmond, Nov. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cavaney returned from Milwaukee Friday, where they had been called by the death of his father, John Cavaney.

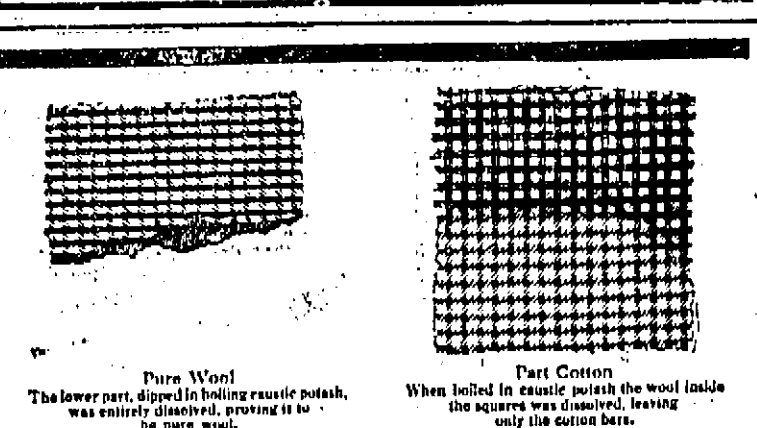

Mr. Cavaney was born in Ireland in 1816, and came to Sauk County, New York, at the age of 12 years. In 1868 he moved to Richmond, Wis., purchasing a farm, and there he resided for 21 years, until 1889, when he removed to Milwaukee to retire. His wife preceded him to the other world about 18 months ago and since that time he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Donovan of Milwaukee. The deceased was about 94 years of age and was survived by five children: Mrs. Donovan, Kathryn, John, and Dr. James Cavaney of Milwaukee, and Thomas of Richmond. He had been in remarkably good health for age so advanced in years, being confined to his bed only a week. Death resulted from the infirmities of old age.

Clothcraft Stands the Acid Test

YOU always find in your Clothcraft suit a regularly signed, legal, binding guaranty that the suit is pure wool.

That guaranty could not be given if the makers and we ourselves did not absolutely know the goods to be pure wool.

This is the test: Pure wool boiled in caustic potash completely dissolves. If there is any cotton in the mixture, it remains.

Every piece of cloth coming from the mills must be able to stand this test before it is accepted for Clothcraft.

Wool lasts. Wool keeps its stylish shape and color. When you can have all-wool guaranteed at $10 to $25 it is foolish to take anything less. Then come in today and pick out your Clothcraft suit or overcoat.

MUST PLAY HARD TO WIN TONIGHT

Team of University Players Will Give Lakota Cardinals A Hard Tussle To Win.

Plenty of excitement for the spectators is promised in tonight's basketball game at the West Side rink between the Lakota Cardinals and the Collegiate team, the squad of players from the U. W. This quiet made a hit with the "fans" last year many of whom are planning to witness this contest. They play a game that is full of snap and glaze and are said to be in better playing form than last season. The two teams in the previous match were about even in strength, but it is expected that if the Lakota Cardinals win tonight they will have to work hard for the honors. The game will be hard-fought from start to finish. The intercollegiate style of playing, with which the University players are familiar, is slightly rougher than the game under the A. A. U. rules, which the Lakota Cardinals follow, but a combination of the two for both teams, seems to appeal strongly to the fans who like best a contest that is close, no matter in whose favor the score is decided. The Lakota Cardinals' squad will comprise Sammt, Cunningham, Robertson, Langdon, Booth, Green and Kilmer, and the Collegiate will line up practically the same as last year.

Sneezing Superstitions.

The Germans say: "Good health!" because they maintain, and not without reason, that the sneeze is a warning of the approach of a cold, and also marks the movement when a charm, a wish, or a suggestion may drive it away. The Persians go further in this direction, inasmuch as they exclaim: "God be thanked!" its being held that the sneeze has actually put to flight some evil spirit that was about to gain entrance to a man's body in order to feed upon his sacred flesh.—The Sunday Magazine.

segment of life which she has known a joke, as she turns a laughing backward glance upon them.
Yet to soberer eyes those were serious times when she was seeking her fortune in New York. The hall bedroom of youth and poverty figured largely in that time. Also, figured a lost piano for she had not money enough to redeem it, and it went to the purchasers for the fifty dollars that she had advanced for her journey to the theatre. Of course she would get a job and pay the money back. But through the crack in the door, where the wintry winds whistled on cold days, a cruel letter was thrust one day. The piano was gone. The one her father had paid four hundred and seventy-five dollars for.

And then came the small hall bedroom and the persistent landlady. Her life was a series of disappointments and the knowledge of "want."
To look at her now as she heads the company playing "The Golden Girl" the particularly bright star of that glittering musical play and one that costs Mort H. Singer a good round sum weekly in salary, one would not picture the forlorn little girl who used to haunt theatrical managers' offices up and down Broadway.

As star of the original New York Company of "The Climax" she made her first real success and in "The Golden Girl" she has established herself as a stellar light.

I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a complete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicine praise wherever I go. The Ticklemouse

—and his Sleepyland Adventures

By Roy Rutherford Bailey with Davy and Dorfy

Homeward Bound

WHEN the nursery clock struck twelve last night there came a soft tapping on the window, and the fairy appeared again, the tiny bottle still in her hand.

"Davy, would you like to look at the next one?" She took out the stopper and poured a great, glistening tear-drop into his eager hand. She waved her magic wand as she had done the night before, and the tear-drop quickly spread till it covered Davy's hand, covered the rug, covered half the nursery floor!

It grew into a mighty ocean, and on its shining surface a single ship was sailing merrily along. They could hear the happy songs of her crew and see them moving busily about in the rigging, setting one sail after another as the good ship howled along before the trade wind.

One sailor, perched away aloft, seemed smaller than the rest, and when the fairy pointed her magic wand at him like a sparkling searchlight, the twins saw he was little more than a boy.

"He, too, was singing with the rest, but his 'Yo ho ho!' rang out less heartily than theirs on the chorus, and ended in something like a sob.

"Now look over there!" whispered the fairy, pointing to a dark, lonely shoreline, shell across the sea. A solitary light twinkled bravely out from a tiny window, and as the wind shifted the twins thought they could hear a woman's voice calling fairly, "It's a hot, burning tear, but it will bring joy to that lonely window softly, softly. 'Come back, Tommy dear—come back!" The sailor boy in the rigging stopped and listened. Suddenly the wind rose, and from a low moan to a shrieking gale, the lightning stabbed the ocean's breast, the good ship was tossed about like an egg across the sea! That mother is watching and waiting for her boy, who last week ran away to sea. Now!

As if at a signal, the thunder crashed above the helpless ship, as if the very skies had been blown up.

There was a moment's hushed calm, then they saw the sky had cleared and the wind had dropped as suddenly as it had risen. And across the silent water came the whisper, again, "Tommy, my Tommy—come back!"

The sailor had heard, and dashed his hand across his eyes. Something sparkling, flashing, was brushed aside by the movement—and came spinning over the water like a wondrous diamond. The fairy caught it deftly and smiled happily as she put it into a second bottle.

"I must hasten with this to my Queen," she said, "and she will send it on the wind's wings to Tommy's mother—it will make her happier than anything else in the world—for it will tell her that her boy is coming back! Tomorrow night, then—tear number three!"

And as she vanished into the night the four friends saw the sea had calmed, the sun was shining, and the ship had reversed her helm—she was sailing straight toward the little lonely window on the distant shore. And in the rigging of the good ship the lighthearted little sailor had was singing—singing the happy song of the homeward bound!

Big Soap Shipments Arrive!

Arrangements are practically complete for Soap Week. Enormous quantities of Palmolive and Galvanic Soaps are being placed with retail dealers. There will be free Palmolive Soap for everybody. Nearly every grocer in town has enrolled his name on the list of distributors.

GALVANIC SOAP

The Soap That a Million Women Use

Compare Galvanic with the soap you now use. Then decide which one you want. If Galvanic Soap doesn't do twice the work with half the labor—doesn't make your clothes much whiter and cleaner—doesn't in every way prove its superiority over any other laundry soap at any price—why, then continue to use the old soap.

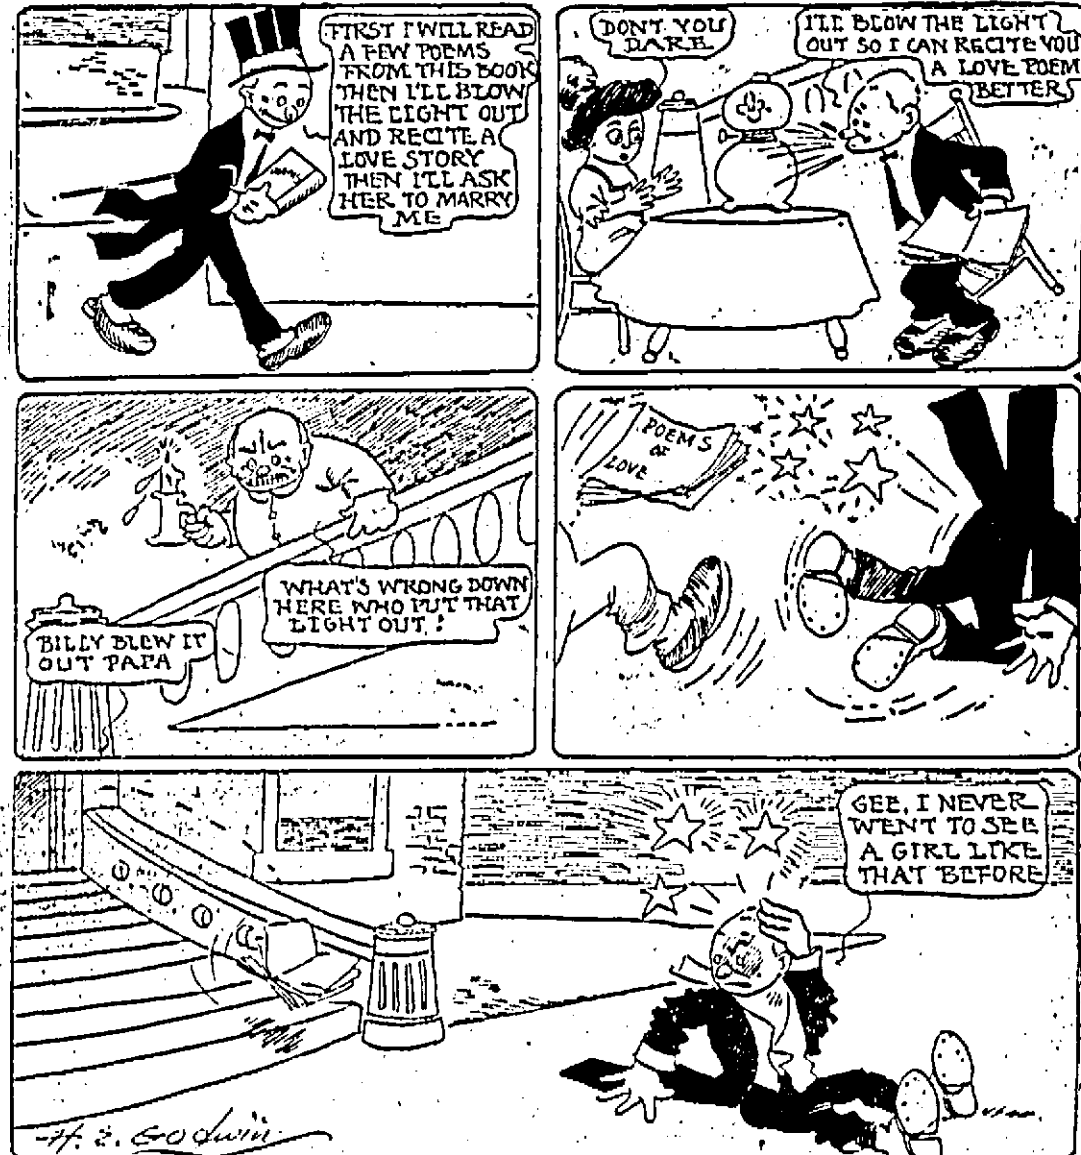

But if it does what we claim for it—and over a million housewives back our claims by using it every day—you owe it to yourself and to your clothes to use Galvanic and nothing but Galvanic.

Galvanic Soap is a pure white soap. It makes your clothes pure white clean. You don't need to boil the clothes. You don't even need to rub them unless they're very badly soiled.

One million women endorse that statement. We know that you will endorse it if you try one cake.

NEVER ANY INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA OR SICK, GASSY UPSET STOMACH

Your out-of-order Stomach feels fine five minutes after taking a little Diapain.

Take your cure out-of-order stomach—maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or catarrh of the stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapain and let you eat one 25-grain Triangulo and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juices; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, eructing.

In bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, acid in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, bloatedness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is failing, and nothing tempta you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapain.

True Praise and Flattery.
The unctuous hypocrite is in such contrast with the man of honor as is the slanderer and scandal monger. The fair and open face of honest praise, the earnest of true affection in speech, the thrilling verdict of solid fame and real glory, are as far away from flattery as the stars are from mud puddles.

The Deaf.
An almost forgotten poet, Robert Hiney Messenger, quaintly wishes for old wood to burn, old books to read and old friends to talk with in an ideal old age, and he might also have added, old tunes to be played in the long twilight while he dozed and dreamed in his easy chair.

ROBIN HOOD AMMUNITION

NOT MADE BY A TRUST

You'll see this picture of Robin Hood on every box of Robin Hood Ammunition. Look for it. It's your guarantee that you are buying the ammunition that kills farthest—gets there quickest—hits hardest and "kicks" less than any other ammunition.

"IT'S ALL IN THE POWDER"

of speed. This velocity decreases quickly after the first sharp explosion. The heavy "kick" also proves that a large part of the pressure is wasted on the shoulder instead of being applied to the shot.

Our Powders, burning gradually, drive the shot with ever-increasing force from breech to muzzle. Full force of the charge comes only when the powder is wholly consumed—at the very muzzle. Results: greatest possible muzzle velocity and penetration, yet much less kick than you find in other powders. Our Powders do not crush or disfigure the shot as other powders will do, and this means that Robin Hood Ammunition shoots straight—shoots where you point the gun.

Our four brands of powder are:

Robin Hood Smokeless, loaded in Robin Hood and Comet Shells.

Peerless Smokeless, loaded in Clipper and Capital Shells.

Rapidite Dense, Smokeless, loaded in Crescent and Autocrat Shells.

Eclipse, Near Smokeless, loaded in Eclipse Shells.

We also make a line of Metallic Cartridges, .22, .32, and .38 calibers, that are without equal for target and gallery practice. They are loaded with smokeless powder and are adapted to all makes of firearms using these sizes. Buy it from any of the dealers whose names appear below. If that is inconvenient, write us and we will see that you are supplied. Write for our catalog, anyway.

Remember, we are the only ammunition manufacturers in America that manufacture Smokeless Powder and load the products of our own mills.

God Will Be God For All That

By REV. F. FINCHER
Pastor Second Presbyterian Church
Houston, Texas

Text.—Thus, did God render the wickedness of Abimelech—and all the evil of men of such—did God render upon their heads.—Judges 9:23, 24.

Our text reads, "Thus did God render the wickedness of Abimelech—and all the evil of men of such—did God render upon their heads."—Judges 9:23, 24.

"The mills of the gods grind slow but they grind exceedingly small." History keeps on repeating this truth. Back of all the mystery of human deeds is the ruling of a mighty hand. Abimelech learned this to his sorrow. He had gained his throne by murder and ruled with bands dyed in blood. But evil hunts for the wicked to overthrow him. One of his own number conspired for his ruin and the story of his fall by a stone hurled from a woman's hand is graphically told in this chapter. Our text more fully gives the reason why: "God will be God for all that." Is here sounded forth in words that can not die.

Let us learn first that God rules over all and no wrong shall ever go unpunished. All dealings with men have also their deal with God. There are three parties to every transaction, God, myself and my brother man and none can be left out. In wronging my brother I wrong God and the wrong shall not go unpunished. History repeats this story over and over: "He sure your sin will find you out." Abimelech was no exception. The blood of his seventy brethren was crying out for vengeance. His fall was inevitable. This truth needs added emphasis today. Many are amassing wealth by means foul or fair, regardless of law either that of man or God. But there shall surely come a day of reckoning, not only from men, but God Himself shall set right every wrong. Vengeance may be slow, but it is nevertheless sure.

The crime of murder is fast on the increase. Statistics show that a large per cent of the guilty go free. But there is yet a sterner Judge from whose law no guilty one shall escape.

Then again our text shows how men reap what they sow. Abimelech had gained his throne by murdering all who stood in his way and now he falls by a murderer's hand. "He that sows to the wind shall reap the whirlwind." A life of sin must end in a life of shame. A man's conduct always comes back to him. Jacob deceived his father and in his old age he reaps the sorrow of deceit and falsehood at the hands of his eleven sons. The man who swindles to make his fortune will most surely reap loss and ruin at the swindler's hand.

Note also that God carries on His purpose despite the sin of those entrusted with power. God will still be God after all, and He is the last one with whom we must reckon. We shall not be able to foil His purpose nor thwart His plan. Our resistance shall only become our ruin. Abimelech found it so. Might could not make right and error shall not stand. That sin or nation that persists in wrongdoing God shall set aside and it shall fall. We call ours a great nation and it is, but we have some grievous sins laid to our charge. Our civilization is fast leaving God out and has little regard for His eternal law. We often weigh with a false weight and sell with a false measure. Right is often changed to suit the occasion while men in high places set up false standards. Let us be sure that all this graft and greed and wrong shall become our undoing for we are dealing with God as well as with man. If we continue to resist and break His law He shall cause the destroyer to rise up in our midst, and though we fall His purpose shall go evenly on.

Then, again, I think this text clearly teaches that God will most surely care for His own. Those who trust Him shall never be forsaken. In the end our cause shall triumph because it is God's cause. Not so much it is because God is on our side, but rather because we are on the side that God upholds and makes to triumph. He will care for us though all else shall fail. Though, like Elijah, we seem all alone, God's tender care shall be our constant stay. While we trust and obey Him the cross of oil shall not fail nor shall the bread be exhausted. He shall ever keep us in the hollow of His hand.

Church Attendance.

The best preparation for life any young man can have who, from college or high school, or otherwise, enters the wider arena of the world's life is a church-going habit. Such a habit is a standing force in the young man's life, and brings him periodically into contact with the uplifting forces and sweeter influences, disseminated through the church, which go to make existence intellectually intelligible and morally worth while. How young men will go utterly to the bad who keep up the church-going habit.—Congregationalist.

Worlds to Conquer.

Let us not be satisfied with the petty little provinces of pleasure and sin. Let us not spend our time dreaming of better things outside, but let us by faith act on noble principles and live for highest ideals. This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.—Bishop P. B. Spalding, Salt Lake City.

where they surpass all others. The only records some people ever succeed in breaking are in going from bad to worse.

"HIGHER UPS" ARE HIT HARD

TRUE BILLS RETURNED IN ALABAMA COAL LANDS FRAUD CASE.

BIG NAMES ARE INVOLVED

Alleged Assignees of Claims Include Gov. Gillett and Congressman McLaughlin—Rumored Government Will Open Land Worth Billion.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 4.—Six men were indicted by the federal grand jury here charged with conspiring to defraud the government of coal lands in Alaska valued at $200,000,000.

Among those who were alleged to be assignees of one or more of the claims are:

John H. McGraw, former governor of Washington (died last July); Gov. James N. Gillett, California; Congressman McLaughlin, California; Henry T. Oxnard, president of the American Best Sugar company; Harry White, former mayor of Seattle.

The men indicted are: Harry White, Raymond Brown, Spokane; William L. Dunn, Spokane; Charles F. Dougherty, Seattle; Charles A. McKenzie, Seattle; Donald A. McKenzie, Washington D. C.

What Indictments. The indictments charge that the six men had agreements with the claimants whereby they were to have a half interest in the claims, which would give them more land than they were legally entitled to. These men are said to be the controlling factors in three groups of coal lands known as the M. A. Green property in the Kayak mining district, each group representing 121 claims of 100 acres each.

It is rumored that the government intends to cancel all the coal land findings in Alaska and release land estimated to be worth one billion dollars. The prominence of the names involved created a sensation here, as it has been predicted that the names of the men who were really the "ones higher up" would never come out in court. The northwest and the west coast are now wondering whether the grand jury of Spokane will take still further radical steps in its recommendations.

Names Mentioned Before. It is not, however, the first time that these names have been publicly mentioned in connection with the alleged frauds. About a year ago in a magazine article the charge was brought that Governor Gillett owned coal land claims in Alaska. The governor did not deny the charge.

MUST LOSE QUEUE OR OFFICE.

Chinese Minister at Washington Embarrassed by Imperial Edict.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Whether to resign in preference to cutting off his queue is the decision Minister Chang Yin Tang of China must reach within the next few days. He cannot hold his diplomatic position unless the appendage is removed. The imperial order, affecting every Chinese diplomat abroad, was officially announced yesterday.

MAURETANIA IS HELD IN MUD.

Passengers Throng Deck in Alarm, But Steamer Finally Clears.

New York, Nov. 4.—For almost an hour the Cunard liner Mauretania was aground in Ambrose channel. The liner had given promise of making a new speed record, but the rain, wind and mist enveloped her as she passed Nantuxet. The engines were slackened. The speed was increased as the mist cleared and the steamer was making good time to quarantine when she stuck in the mud. For three-quarters of an hour, while 787 cabin and 115 steerage passengers thronged the decks in alarm, the engines kept up full steam astern until the big hull finally backed and got clear.

STRIKE THREATENS ALL SPAIN.

Dispatches to Paris Paper Says Government Is Alarmed.

Paris, Nov. 4.—A dispatch to the Petit Journal from Crebera, near the Spanish frontier, says that a general strike has been declared in Catalonia and will be proclaimed through the whole of Spain within a week. The strike at Saragossa is rapidly spreading, but no disorders have been reported. Madrid advises to the same paper state that the government is exceedingly anxious over the situation and that troops have been rushed to Barcelona, Saragossa and Sabadell.

Education and Common Sense.

There are times when a good education is of small importance compared with a good stock of common sense.

GOULD MARRIES EDITH KELLY.

Millionaire and Actress United by Scottish Ceremony in Edinburgh.

Edinburgh, Nov. 4.—Frank J. Gould of New York was married to Miss Edith Kelly, the actress, on October 29 at St. Giles church, according to a report published in The Scotsman.

It was strictly secret and followed the simple Scottish procedure—a mere declaration before witnesses and the sheriff.

After the wedding the couple went to Albionford, the former home of Sir Walter Scott, which was recently secured as a residence by Mr. Gould.

The news of this wedding will surprise many of Mr. Gould's friends, for it has been definitely reported for months that he was married to Miss Kelly in Paris.

SENATOR CLAY IN SANITARIUM.

Georgia Member of Upper House Critically Ill at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4.—United States Senator Alexander S. Clay, desperately ill, was brought from his home at Marietta and placed in an Atlanta sanitarium. It is said the senator's condition is desperate and there is little hope of his recovery.

Senator Clay has not been in good health for some years. There is much mystery about the nature of his illness, but it is generally believed that he is suffering from cancer of the stomach.

DENIES PANAMA ANNEX STORY.

Taft Declares Reports Concerning Isthmian Policies Unfounded.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The administration authorizes a public and sweeping denial of a story published in New York that President Taft was preparing to annex Panama and of various other mythical strokes of policy, all of which are characterized as "baseless fabrications."

The denial of the White House is accompanied by a declaration of the policy of this government to be in strict accordance with the political change which made Panama a republic and which guarantees its integrity and national welfare.

Parliament Adjourns to November 8 When Program Will Be Announced.

"FIBREX"

The ware that wears.

Just think of a pail that

Can't leak; can't absorb odors; can't get soggy; can't rust, warp, or shrink; can't collect dirt and germs.

Well, that's "FIBREX."

It is all in one piece: it is cleaned in an instant; it is the lightest ever; it is practically everlasting; it is absolutely hygienic.

Try a "Fibrex" pail—it will give you the "Fibrex" habit.
